Agree: 45.23%
Neutral: 8.72%
Disagree: 0.78%
Strongly Disagree: 6.2%

Even Semester:

Strongly Agree: 51.08%
Agree: 34.47%
Neutral: 6.91%
Disagree: 1.65%
Strongly Disagree: 5.89%

Key Observations:

Odd Semester vs. Even Semester: The percentage of students strongly agreeing with the curriculum increases from the odd (39.3%) to the even semester (51.08%).

Agreement Rates: Majority of students express agreement with the curriculum in both odd (84.53%) and even semesters (85.55%).

Neutral Responses: Neutral responses remain relatively consistent between odd (8.72%) and even semesters (6.91%).

Disagreement Rates: Disagreement rates are generally low, with slight fluctuations between odd and even semesters.

Recommendations:

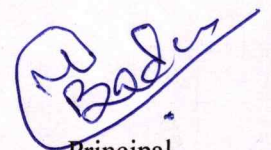

Continuous Evaluation: Regularly assess student feedback to identify areas for improvement and ensure alignment with student needs.

Engagement: Encourage active communication with students to understand their perspectives and address any concerns.

Address Disagreements: Attend to the concerns raised by students who disagree or strongly disagree with the curriculum, ensuring their feedback is thoroughly considered.

Conclusion:

Overall, student feedback on the Hotel and Hospitality curriculum indicates a positive perception, with high levels of agreement in both odd and even semesters. However, continuous engagement and evaluation are necessary to address any concerns and ensure the curriculum remains effective and relevant.

Feedback Analysis Report

Faculty Feedback on Curriculum (Curriculum Feedback Analysis 2022-23) BHMCT

May,01,2023

Odd Semester:

Strongly Agree: 22.5%
Agree: 71.25%
Neutral: 5%
Disagree: 1.25%

Even Semester:

Strongly Agree: 12.22%
Agree: 78.89%
Neutral: 3.33%
Disagree: 5.56%

Key Observations:

Odd Semester vs. Even Semester: There is a noticeable decrease in the percentage of faculty strongly agreeing with the curriculum from the odd (22.5%) to the even semester (12.22%).

Agreement Rates: The majority of faculty member's express agreement with the curriculum in both odd (71.25%) and even semesters (78.89%).

Neutral Responses: Neutral responses remain relatively low in both semesters, with a slight increase in the even semester.

Disagreement Rates: Disagreement rates are minimal but show a slight increase from the odd (1.25%) to the even semester (5.56%).

Recommendations:

Explore Changes in Curriculum: Investigate reasons behind the decrease in strong agreement from odd to even semesters and address any identified issues.

Engage Faculty: Foster open communication with faculty members to understand the factors influencing their perceptions and gather suggestions for improvement.

Address Disagreements: Attend to the concerns raised by the small percentage of faculty members who disagree with the curriculum, ensuring their feedback is thoroughly considered.

Conclusion:

While the majority of faculty member's express agreement with the Hotel & Hospitality curriculum in both odd and even semesters, the decrease in strong agreement and the slight increase in disagreement rates merit attention. Continuous engagement with faculty, exploration of curriculum changes, and addressing concerns are crucial for maintaining a curriculum that aligns with the needs and expectations of the teaching staff.
